History

The Golden Eagles of Minnesota are an African-American, nonprofit organization dedicated to encouraging minority youth and their families to consider the field of aviation as a career option. Being part of a national organization--Negro Airmen International (NAI)--Black Wings in Aviation enables us to be affiliated with similar chapters across the United States. The Golden Eagles of Minnesota have continued to promote and create new opportunities for youth to explore the exciting field of aviation since 1967.

Purpose

- To promote aviation.
- To encourage urban youth to remain in school and to consider the field of aviation as a career option.
- To further minority participation in the field of aviation.
- To create and foster an awareness and sensitivity among governmental and industrial organizations to the needs, attitudes, interest, and accomplishments of minorities regarding aviation.

Aviation Launch Day

Established in 1988, Aviation Launch Day is an annual event held at a local airport. The sole purpose of this event is to make urban youth aware of the multitude of aviation opportunities available to them within the state of Minnesota and the world. Through Aviation Launch Day, the Golden Eagles of Minnesota provide a support network for youth pursuing an aviation interest.

This event is an opportunity for area youth and their families to gain exposure to aviation by participating in the following activities:

- Air Rides
- Meeting Golden Eagle youth that are licensed pilots.
- Meeting people of many aviation backgrounds.
- Examining civil and military aircraft first hand.
